

A Message to Your Mother

There is a field of energy that is somewhat unseen to most, but visible to all when our vibration is high enough to resonate with it. The key is to do the things that will elevate our vibration to the highest heights. For me, this is an ongoing daily activity, because as a Healer, this is what I do. I listen and follow instructions.

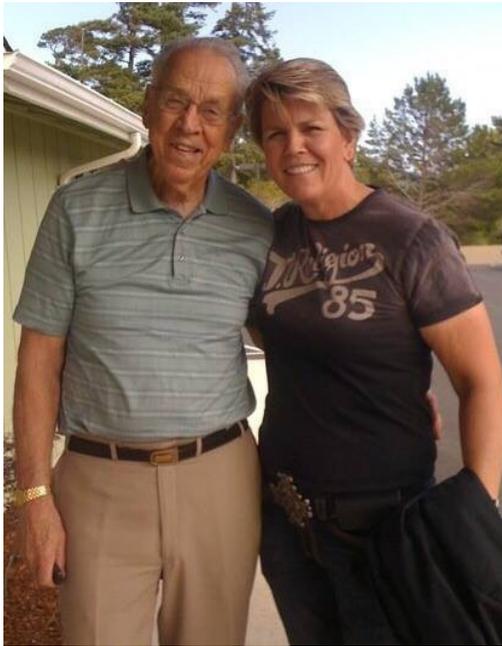

The other day I was walking my puppy outside and decided to play this song for the second time. (I had just heard it the night before.) As I was walking, I heard my dad say, "Post that for your mother." I looked around and knew my dad wasn't 'seen' but I also knew what I heard. It was definitely my dad! My mom and dad were married just shy of 60 years. This was his message of hope and love for her. I posted it to Facebook and eventually sent it to my mom in a text message. She said it was one of the most incredible messages she had ever received and it 'really helped her'.

Here is a link to the song on YouTube (Michael Bublé - Close Your Eyes) youtu.be/LoEWmc60wJY.

There are MANY Angels and Spirit Guides who walk with us each and every day. If we listen, we will hear. I'm glad I was listening that day, so my dad could give his message of LOVE to my mom. I love them both so much and although my dad is not here in physical form, he sure is around a LOT, reminding me of who I am, and what this life is really all about.

I love you Dad, and I'm grateful I could be the one who had this special experience to help you get your message of love and hope to Mom. She really is the one you called 'babe' and the one who always pulled us through. She is most definitely, 'one of a kind' ...and a true Angel. Now, every time I hear this song, I think of Mom and this experience with you Dad. Thank you. I love you both so much!
